

Madison Woods

Born Nov. 15, 1964

Currently lives and works in Kingston, AR USA

madison@paleopaints.com | <https://www.paleopaints.com>

Madison Woods is an emerging artist focusing primarily on working with foraged, local pigments processed into watercolor paints. Her palette is limited, yet earthy and rich. As with her medium of choice, her subjects are inspired by nature. Her main body of work focuses on birds of prey, but delves into other representations of nature as well.

EDUCATION

Madison is self-taught in all aspects of art. She began painting after making her first set of pigments in July 2018.

EXHIBITIONS & PUBLICITY

2019 Interviewed by KUAF about the Ozark pigments and my art (<https://www.kuaf.com/post/local-artist-creates-paints-using-ancient-methods>)

2019 Artists of Northwest Arkansas Annual Member's Show

2019 IMMERSE, a celebration of Wilson Springs Preserve, Fayetteville, AR

2019-2020 Arkansas Committee of the National Museum of Women in the Arts' 2019-2020 Artists Registry.

2019-2020 Seven States Biennial Exhibit (Touring Oklahoma- Nesbitt, Museum of the Red River, Goddard Center)

2019 November- Heritage, Heart & Arts Exhibit, 1894 Gallery, Texarkana, AR

2019 November- Group Art Show, Jones Gallery, Kansas City, MO

2019 December- Interview with Missouri State University Libraries

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

Artists of Northwest Arkansas

Mid-South Watercolorists

